Mouth Rio Grande

September 6th 1847.

My Dear Father -

I arrived here two days ago from Pakillo, We have come down in advance of our Brigade to procure transportation. being ordered down to Vera Cruz to join Gen. Scott. This changes the destiny of Genl. Cushing and myself. We will encamp the Brigade at Palo Alto, about 40 miles up the River until the Transports are ready. That is a fine healthy place much preferable to this place of sand and mud. Gen Cushings Brigade for the present will consist of the 13th Infantry, and Mass. Infantry - we expect another Regiment when we reach head Quarters. We will have to remain in camp nearly three weeks. Hereafter direct everything to me on the other line by way of Vera Cruz - Genl Lanes Brigade also goes below, which is now encamped here, and will sail by Thursday of this week. I am glad we are going to the other line, we will have a chance to win our spurs - I found my boxes here this morning, just landing from a vessel from New Orleans -

They all all impatience here to learn something from Genl Scott- An Express rider from Gen Lane overtook us before we reached Monterey, coming that way. from which we learned that Genl Scott had fought two battles and gained two splendid victories One at Rio Frio. and the other just outside the city- He had taken possession of the city, and sent in a division of troops. This news Genl Lane obtained from San Louis by way of Parras in a letter from a friendly and influential Mexican, and it also was the general rumour among the Mexicans at Saltillo- We can learn nothing by way of Vera Cruz. I think there is truth in the report. The letter states he moved on the 10th ultimo which corresponds with the time he was to move-

The 16th Infantry who went up to relieve the Mass Regiment at Monterey was attacked near Papagayos by the Mexicans, which lasted near two hours We had one man wounded- They are growing bold and will be troublesome when there two Brigades move- I am well. Give my love to Martha. give the Respects to friends Why dont the Bay Staters people write me. I have written fifteen letters there and only had one in return.s-

I remain

Hon Jefn Davis

Your affectionate Bro

W. H. Davis

Mouth Rio Grande September 6th 1847

My Dear Father-

I arrived here two days ago from Saltillo. We have come down in advance of our Brigade to procure transportation, being ordered down to Vera Cruz to join Gen. Scott. This changes the destiny of Genl. Cushing and myself. We will encamp the Brigade at Palo Alto about 40 miles up the River until the transports are ready. That is a fine healthy place much preferable to this place of sand and mud. Gen. Cushings Brigade for the present will consist of the 12th Infantry and Mass. Infantry. We expect another Regiment when we reach Head Quarters. We will have to remain in camp nearly three weeks. Hereafter direct everything to me on the other line by way of Vera Cruz. Genl. Lane's Brigade also goes below, which is now encamped here, and will sail by Thursday of this week. I am glad we are going to the other line, we will have a chance to win our spurs. I found my boxes here this morning, just landing from a vessel from New Orleans.

They all are impatient here to learn something from Genl. Scott. An express rider from Gen. Wool overtook us before we reached Monterey, coming this way from which we learned that Genl. Scott had fought two battles and gained two splendid victories one at Rio Frio and the other just outside the city. He had taken possession of the city, and sent in a division of troops. This news Genl. Wool obtained from San Louis by way of Parrao in a letter from a friendly and influential Mexican, and it also was the general rumour among the Mixicans at Saltillo. We can learn nothing by way of Vera Cruz. I think there is truth in the report. The letter states he moves on the 10th ultimo which corresponds with the time he was to move.

The 16th Infantry went up to relieve the Mass Rigiment at Monterey was attached near Papagazos by the Mexicans, which lasted near two hours. We had one man wounded. They are growing bold and will be troublesome when these two Brigades move.....Your affectionate son

W.W. H. Davis